

Örn Greif

Head of Sales and Relationship Managers

BNP Paribas Securities Services London

Örn joined BNP Paribas Securities Services as Head of Debt Business Development in 2012. He is responsible for sales teams in Europe, North America and Asia, offering a broad service portfolio for loan and credit administration. Prior to this, he held a number of positions within the Corporate & Investment Banking Division (CIB) of BNP Paribas. His last posting involved the promotion of European asset backed securities between origination, structuring, sales and trading teams after the collapse of the structured finance markets.

Örn has nearly two decades experience in debt capital markets having previously worked at Barclays Capital in Paris, New York and London as well as Nomura International in London. He has structured securitisations backed by trade receivables, consumer loans, auto loans, residential and commercial mortgages for borrowers across Europe and North America.

Örn studied at the University of Paris (Panthéon-Sorbonne), the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po) and the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) with degrees in Literature, Politics and Economics.
